

ALOHA COMMON THEATRE

The Garden Island offers limited opportunities for budding playwrights to develop and showcase their work. A.C.T. addresses this through workshops, readings, collaborations between writers, actors, directors, and performance opportunities.

Aloha Common Theatre's target audience includes local emerging playwrights, theatre enthusiasts, and the broader community.

We empower creativity through inclusive performances

Our short-term goal is to introduce our organization to Kauai by producing our "Homegrown" original play, KAUAI LOVE STORY, at the War Memorial Convention Hall in Lihue. We will follow up with performances at island wide venues and culminate our inaugural production at the Kauai Community College Performing Arts Center, the premier cultural and arts venue on Kauai, featuring state-of-the-art facilities.

Emphasizing local talent and cultural preservation, our long-term objective is to give local playwrights continuous assistance and chances to present their works. Emphasizing ten-minute pieces, we intend to have an annual short-form play festival.

Our mission includes cultivating local playwrights, facilitating the development and production of original plays, and bringing fresh theatrical entertainment to Kauai.

Revenue will be generated through ticket sales to our performances, with support and donations from local businesses and individuals. As our program develops, we will, of course, seek grants to support our mission.

Aloha Common Theatre will attract initial audiences through personal contacts, social media, as well as reaching out to local businesses who welcome our approach to locally sourced entertainment, and the free media reach provided to nonprofit organizations.

We hope to raise enough funds at our first performance at the War Memorial Convention Hall, on January 19, 2025, to help us in our endeavor to put on a great Grand Opening performance at the Performing Arts Center.
